Pla de BAGES
DENOMINACIÓ D'ORIGEN

Welcome to the DO PLA DE BAGES wine route!

Pla de Bages is a region that is proud of its winegrowing heritage, one that is unique in Europe and that has become a veritable treasure in the zone's wine tourism industry. The area is dotted with thousands of dry-stone huts and vats that reveal great beauty and simplicity. These were built by the land workers over the centuries to convert the grapes into wine onsite, in the actual vineyard itself.

They now stand as an extraordinary testament to the vigour and vitality that winemaking has had in this DO region, which is today a small production zone making great wines using autochthonous grape varieties such as the Picapoll and the Mandó.

The landscape bordering this region has been recognised as a UNESCO Global Geopark, with the Montserrat mountain range, the Sant Llorenç del Munt i l'Obac Natural Park and the Cardona salt dome being just some of its most spectacular places of interest.

A BIT OF HISTORY...

Pla de Bages has always been an exceptional area for winegrowing, which was already expanding in the Middle Ages under the influence of the monastery of Sant Benet de Bages. In the mid-19th century, the vineyards of El Bages enjoyed their age of splendour, leaving us with structures of great beauty like the dry stone vineyard vats and huts. The technique, knowledge and art of dry stone building is listed as UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage.

Winegrowing's historical relevance was rekindled again in the late 20th century with the creation of DO Pla de Bages and thanks to the excellent work of the wineries, run by winemaking dynasties, century-old cooperatives and small family projects alike.
